

You and your detective team arrive at Captain Jay's antique store, bustling with customers admiring the new gems. Captain Jay is busy explaining the details when your presence suddenly scares the customers away. Shocked, he exclaims, "How can you say that I am the thief?"

With a search warrant in hand, your team searches every corner of the store but finds nothing. You then question Captain Jay about the suspicious call. He explains it was about a family dinner with his son.

Suddenly, your phone rings. An anonymous message appears: "Thank you! Now nobody will celebrate Warrior's Day! Geotopia is soon a lost city!"
